

MR. CAMERON, EXAM. BY MR. MERRICK

1 get so upset when you heard about other people being 2 involved in this political issue. I didn't ask for any 3 report. Someone gave it to me and said, "Have a look at 4 this, maybe it might be of some interest to you." You
5 know --

6 Q. Do you want to respond to that implication in any 7 more complete way?

8 A. I'm probably less political than most people, Mr.
9 Merrick, if you really knew me. You know, I've really 10 had a hard time with my own Party because I wouldn't 11 carry out the traditional kind of Party politics, and 12 that's well documented. So I'm not very partisan. So, 13 you know, to try to portray me as someone that's always 14 caught up in the political stuff, I don't think you
15 really know what I stand for and who I was, so --

16 Q. Well, leaving me out of it, I'm just the questioner,
17 that's an implication I'm suggesting to you one can draw.
18 Do you wish to respond to it any further way?

19 A. I believe it was Mike MacDonald, did a report, took 20 a month or two he said, and he said, "You should have a 21 look at this," and he gave it to a bunch of people. I
22 don't -- I was really surprised by his findings, to tell
23 the truth, because it didn't look like DEVCO was maybe
24 run like a business. Maybe it was run more like a wing
25 of the political party. And, quite frankly, that
