

MR. CAMERON, EXAM. BY MR. MERRICK

1 families four years later still aching and agonizing.
2 And, you know, that's got to be the saddest thing of all.

3 And I'm afraid it's not over yet. I'm afraid this 4 court case will go on for a number, a number of years and 5 these same people are going to be in turmoil. Their 6 lives will be in turmoil, and there never will be a
7 closing for them, that they can get on and start -- 8 start, instead of the tears and the anger and the 9 frustration, that they can start remembering their loved
10 ones and saying, "Yeah, I remember when we did that."
11 And that's a normal, grieving process that anyone that 12 ever has lost anyone goes through. In this case, there's 13 no normal grieving process, and I think it's very, very,
14 very sad.

15 And I'm so saddened by just the nastiness and 16 vicious comments that's made and how some tragedy like 17 this could be turned into such an ill-feeling -- No one 18 is going to be served by that.

19 And you know, I remember feeling the same way when I
20 was much younger and the Springhill explosion took place.
21 People were by their radios hoping and praying that some 22 people would come out alive. And you know, it was just 23 like a flashback. When this happened, everyone in Pictou
24 County especially, and around the world, but in Pictou
25 County, everyone was glued to the radio. They wanted to
